

AN EXTRAORDINARY BARREL BLEND

Two styles of 100% Blue Agave Añejo sipping tequila, aged in new French Oak and new American Oak, then artfully blended together to create infinite richness and an agave-forward taste profile that is both elegant and smooth. Long round finish, with notes of cacao, spicy black pepper.

Casa Dragones Añejo is best served neat or with a small ice cube.

“A luxurious sipping tequila matured in French and American oak...a refreshing alternative to gifting a bottle of scotch.”

—Food & Wine

“You have another winner. It’s beautiful and the body and color are extraordinary.”

—Chef Thomas Keller, Chef-Proprietor, The French Laundry & Per Se

AN EXTRAORDINARY BARREL BLEND

This 100% Blue Agave añejo tequila is aged in two custom-made barrels—new French oak and new American oak—each crafted in collaboration with top cooperages to complement the tequila’s signature profile. The French oak, a proprietary blend of Quercus sessile sustainably sourced from five central French forests, is toasted to impart roundness and subtle spice, while the American oak undergoes a medium toast to enhance aromatic intensity. The final blend offers a rich, elegant, and agave-forward expression unlike any other.

BODY & COLOR

Light caramel, with bright hues and pronounced legs.

AROMA

Fresh floral, pear with notes of figs and almonds.

TASTE

Notes of macadamia, nutmeg and blackberry.

FINISH

Long round finish, notes of cacao, spicy black pepper.

SUSTAINABILITY

- Industry-leading efficiency in production
- Reduced water, energy use, and waste
- Fewer agaves used per liter

OUR WATER

- Sourced from natural spring aquifers
- Mineral-rich from volcanic soil
- Precision-purified for balance

OUR AGAVE HARVEST

- Grown in volcanic soil, harvested at peak maturity
- Around 7 years to full ripeness
- Hand-selected for optimal quality

THE FIRST TEQUILA RESTED EXCLUSIVELY IN JAPANESE MIZUNARA OAK

ミズナラ樽で熟成

Casa Dragones Reposado Mizunara is the first tequila rested exclusively in new Mizunara casks, a rare oak native to Japan and traditionally used for aging Japanese whiskies. This delicately rested tequila delivers subtle notes of orange blossom, apricot and coffee bean.

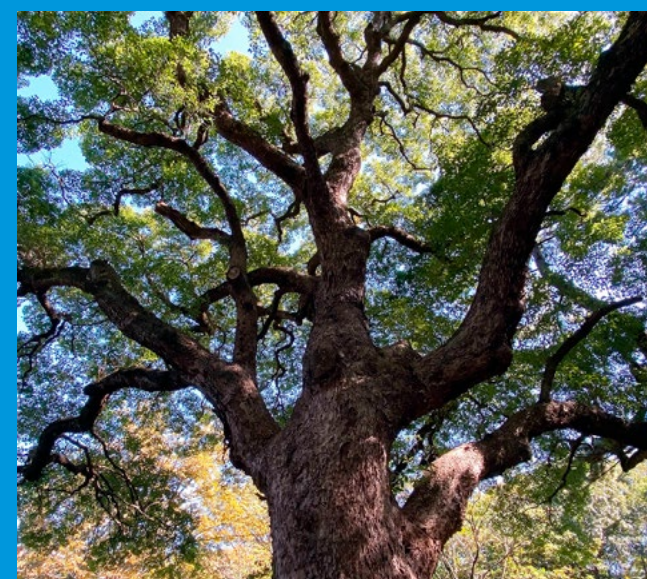

Casa Dragones Reposado is best served neat or with a small ice cube.

“A tequila to celebrate the finest Mexico can offer.”
—The New York Times

“Mexico meets Japan with this new, aged tequila.”
—Robb Report

“I love the smooth texture and beautiful apricot notes of the Reposado Mizunara.”
—Chef Masa Takayama, Chef-Proprietor, Masa & Bar Masa; Chef, Kappo Masa

CRAFTSMANSHIP OF RARE, JAPANESE OAK

Casa Dragones Mizunara casks are crafted from rare Japanese oak, known for its twisting trunks and centuries-long growth—often taking up to 200 years to mature. In partnership with Japan’s only independent cooperage, we created brand-new 100% Mizunara casks to rest our tequila. Since importing our first casks in 2018, we’ve continued to innovate, exploring how this exceptional wood complements the signature profile of Casa Dragones.

SUSTAINABILITY

- Industry-leading efficiency in production
- Reduced water, energy use, and waste
- Fewer agaves used per liter

OUR WATER

- Sourced from natural spring aquifers
- Mineral-rich from volcanic soil
- Precision-purified for balance

OUR AGAVE HARVEST

- Grown in volcanic soil, harvested at peak maturity
- Around 7 years to full ripeness
- Hand-selected for optimal quality

BODY & COLOR

Light, bright golden with a silky texture, and long pronounced legs.

AROMA

Orange blossom, magnolia with gentle notes of honey and sandalwood.

TASTE

Balanced notes of oak, butterscotch and apricot.

FINISH

Long finish with hints of coffee bean and mellow spice.